Office Action Summary	Application No. 10/564,407	Applicant(s) ITAI ET AL.
	Examiner PAUL DICKINSON	Art Unit 1618

-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --

Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 28 July 2009.
- 2a) ☐ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☒ This action is non-final.

DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election without traverse of Group I in the reply filed on 7/28/2009 is acknowledged.

Rejections and/or objections not reiterated from previous office actions are hereby withdrawn. The following rejections and/or objects are either reiterated or newly applied. They constitute the complete set presently being applied to the instant application.

Response to Arguments

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

The rejection of Claims 17, 21, and 24-30 under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by US 3332996 ('996) is maintained.

Applicant argues that '996 fails to teach and/or fairly suggest that Compound 50 has inhibitory action against the transformation or proliferation of melanocytes. Further Applicant argues that '996 discloses that Compound 50 has excellent antibacterial activities against S. aureus or E. coli and the disclosure would appear to be limited to applications of Compound 50 for purposes such as disinfection and or the elimination of bacterial contamination/infection. There is no expectation of pharmacological action by Compound 50 on melanocytes.

Art Unit: 1618

Applicant's arguments have been fully considered but are not found persuasive. The Examiner agrees that '996 does not appreciate the inhibitory effect of Compound 50 on melanocytes. This does not, however, distinguish the claimed method from the method of '996. '996 discloses administration of Compound 50 at a concentration of 10 micrograms per milliliter (see abstract; col 3, lines 57-70), which is consistent with Applicant's disclosure of a preventively effective amount of the compound. A composition cannot be separated from its properties, and Compound 50 administered according to the method of '996 must inherently be inhibiting the transformation and/or proliferation of melanocytes and accordingly preventing the development of dermal pigmentation. "[T]he discovery of a previously unappreciated property of a prior art composition, or of a scientific explanation for the prior art's functioning, does not render the old composition patentably new to the discoverer.' Atlas Powder Co. v. Ireco Inc., 190 F.3d 1342, 1347, 51 USPQ2d 1943, 1947 (Fed. Cir. 1999). Thus the claiming of a new use, new function or unknown property which is inherently present in the prior art does not necessarily make the claim patentable. In re Best, 562 F.2d 1252, 1254, 195 USPQ 430, 433 (CCPA 1977)." MPEP § 2112, I.

New Grounds of Rejection

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

Art Unit: 1618

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 35-36 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by US 3332996 (hereafter '996). '996 discloses administration of Compound 50 at a concentration of 10 micrograms per milliliter to a mammal (see abstract; col 3, lines 57-70), which is consistent with Applicant's disclosure of a preventively effective amount of the compound. The instant application is not enabled for the prevention of dermal pigmentation, but for the purposes of comparing the instant claims to the prior art, the method of '996 meets every limitation of the claimed method. Although '996 does not appreciate the effect of the method to prevent dermal pigmentation, a composition cannot be separated from its properties. Compound 50 administered according to the method of '996 must inherently be inhibiting the transformation and/or proliferation of melanocytes, and accordingly must be preventing the development of dermal pigmentation, skin dullness, skin darkening by sunburn, spots, and freckles caused by dermal pigmentation. Accordingly, the method of '996 meets every limitation of the claimed method. "[T]he discovery of a previously unappreciated property of a prior art composition, or of a scientific explanation for the prior art's functioning, does not render the old composition patentably new to the discoverer.' Atlas Powder Co. v. Ireco Inc., 190 F.3d 1342, 1347, 51 USPQ2d 1943, 1947 (Fed. Cir. 1999). Thus the claiming of a new use, new function or unknown property which is inherently present in the prior art does not necessarily make the claim patentable. In re Best, 562 F.2d 1252, 1254, 195 USPQ 430, 433 (CCPA 1977)." MPEP § 2112, I.
